

FOX 10

2017 Rev. Wesley A. James Minority Business Advocate

FOX 10 signed on to support the Mobile Area Chamber's Eagle Awards when the program was initiated in 1998. Former anchor Anissa Centers was the first emcee, and when she left Mobile, current evening news anchor Lenise Ligon stepped in to fill the role in 2008.

From the podium to the video screen, as media sponsor FOX 10 recorded and produced videos highlighting the successes of the Chamber's award winners, including 89 Eagle awards to local minority-owned businesses and 13 Minority Business Advocate awards.

This year the Chamber will present FOX 10 the Rev. Wesley A. James Minority Business Advocate Award.

In addition to the station's work with the Chamber, manages programs reaching the minority community. Two examples are: Surprise Squad recognizing needy families and assisting individuals with donations, and in conjunction with its health partners; and running an annual free prostate screening for minorities, led by news anchor Eric Reynolds.

"This year the 20th annual Eagle Awards Luncheon, and the value FOX 10 has provided in recognizing local minority-owned companies is immeasurable," said Darrell Randle, the Chamber's vice president of small business development. "We can't imagine this event without them and look forward to a continuing partnership."
