Guide to Mobile

Known for its streets lined with massive live oaks, Mobile is a picturesque city at the mouth of the Mobile River at Mobile Bay, leading to the Gulf of Mexico. More than 600,000 residents live in the metropolitan area covering 2,828 square miles. In 30 minutes you can be on the sandy-white beaches of Dauphin Island, yet the mountains of northern Alabama are just a few hours' drive.

Mobile's diversity is mirrored in a plethora of activities – from the Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo to freshwater fishing, antique shopping to outlet bargains, baseball to football, museums to the modern IMAX Dome Theater, tee-time on the course to tea time at a historic plantation home, world-renowned Bellingrath Gardens to the Battleship USS ALABAMA, Dauphin Island Sailboat Regatta to greyhound racing, Mardi Gras to the Christmas parade of boats along Dog River – Mobile is a great place to live and work.

Cool Stuff to Know about Mobile

It's Mo-beel!

The city's name is pronounced "mo-beel," (with a soft emphasis on the second syllable). The name was given by the French and comes from the Maubilla Indians.

Mobile-Tensaw River Delta

The Mobile-Tensaw River Delta, the second largest river delta in the U.S., covers more than 260,000 acres of water, swamps, river bottoms and marshes perfect for exploring, fishing, hunting, boating, canoeing and birding. Designated by the U.S. Congress as a National Natural Landmark, the area is rich in diverse wildlife.

Inspiring Heights

The RSA Battle House Tower is Alabama's tallest building and the tallest building on the entire Gulf Coast outside of Houston.

Climate for Sports

From baseball to golf to fishing, Mobile has almost every sporting option and a mild climate for yearlong enjoyment. Regional golf is among the nation's finest, with more than 25 courses.

Three Centuries of Progress

Founded in 1702, Mobile is one of the oldest U.S. cities. Six different flags have flown over the city: French, Spanish, British, Republic of Alabama, Confederacy and United States of America.

Mobile's cost of living is consistently one of the lowest of the 80 mid-size U.S. metropolitan areas.

Learn More

Mobile has three major universities – one public, University of South Alabama; one private Jesuit, Spring Hill College; and one private Southern Baptist institution, University of Mobile. The Mobile County Public School System is the largest public school system in the state and one of the 50 most populous in the country.

Under a Canopy of Live Oaks

Mobile is known for its miles of streets canopied by majestic live oaks. The city's oldest living resident, the Duffee Oak, is a 300-year-old oak tree, and is one of 3,000 live oaks in Mobile that are more than 100 years old.

Throw Me Something, Mister!

Mobile is the birthplace of Mardi Gras in the U.S. The first masked carnival society paraded through downtown streets in 1830. Now more than 50 parading and non-parading societies maintain the city's Mardi Gras traditions, including three weeks of parades, balls and pageantry.

Demographics

With a 2012 estimated Census population of 604,726, the Mobile Bay region is Alabama's second-largest metro area. Mobile County, the second-largest county in the state, has 413,936 residents. Baldwin County's population is 190,790, and it has increased more than 30 percent from 2000 to 2010, making it one of the fastest-growing counties in Alabama. The population for the city of Mobile is 195,822. The Mobile Bay area population is 66 percent Caucasian, 27 percent African-American, 3.5 percent Hispanic, 1.5 percent Asian-American and 2.0 percent other races. Almost 29 percent of the population is under the age of 19.

Since 2006, Mobile's economic development efforts have garnered $8.5 billion in capital investment and more than 17,400 jobs with an average annual salary of $49,998.

About Mobile's Business Community

As the region's lead economic developer, the Mobile Area Chamber and its coalition of public and private investors recruited 42 new businesses and 86 expansions at existing companies since 2002. These efforts garnered $8.5 billion in capital investment and more than 17,400 jobs with an average annual salary of $49,998 (since 2006).

International Business

Mobile has been a player in global commerce since its development as a port more than 300 years ago. Today, the world plays an even greater role. From Austal to ThyssenKrupp to Airbus, much of Mobile's big development news involves international investment. Airbus recently broke ground at Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley on its first assembly line in the Americas.

Business

Founded in 1702 as a French colonial port, Mobile has a rich and colorful international history. But it's also a fast-growing, modern community with an eye on the future.

The city captured the global business spotlight recently when Airbus selected Mobile for its only assembly site in the western hemisphere. Construction is underway on this $600 million project, and the first deliveries are expected in 2016.

The AM/NS Calvert and Outokumpu Stainless USA plants are operating north of Mobile. SSAB Americas steel plant recently completed a $220 million expansion adding 137 jobs. On the waterfront, Austal USA has expanded to more than 4,000 employees working on military contracts of $5.1 billion.

These are only a few highlights of the economic developments boosting Mobile's economy. The information below provides an overview of the area's economic diversity and recent growth.

Services

The service sector is Mobile's highest-growth sector. Eighty-three percent of the workforce is employed in the service industry, with most of them in trade, transportation, distribution and government sectors.

Banking

There are a number of sound financial institutions, both old and new, that help with business growth and the security of Mobile's financial future. The Mobile Bay region's largest banks are BB&T, BBVA Compass Bank, Hancock Bank, PNC Bank, Regions Bank and Wells Fargo. Other banks include: BancorpSouth, Bay Bank, Century Bank, Coastal Bank and Trust, Commonwealth National Bank, Community Bank, First Community Bank, iBERIABANK, Merchants Bank, SB&T Bank, ServisFirst Bank and Trustmark National Bank. In Mobile and Baldwin counties, these banks have more than 180 branches.

The region also has more than 16 credit unions that provide a number of valuable services to their members.

Healthcare

Mobile is a regional center for medical care, research and education. Nearly 12 percent of Mobile's workforce is employed in the healthcare sector.

There are more than 850 physicians and 175 dentists practicing in the area. Many are affiliated with one or more of the nine hospitals with 2,800 hospital beds serving the Mobile Bay region. In addition, there are many outpatient surgical centers, emergency clinics, home healthcare services, assisted-living facilities and nursing homes.

The University of South Alabama's Mitchell Cancer Institute is a world-class, comprehensive cancer research and treatment center. The institute is expected to have a $1 billion economic impact on the Mobile Bay region over the next decade. Employing more than 700 professionals, it is the only Stage II and III cancer center between Houston and Tampa. Additionally, Providence Hospital has partnered with M.D. Anderson's Physicians Network to provide a direct link for cancer patients in the Mobile area to be served by the Houston-based hospital.

Other healthcare facilities continue to expand. USA Children's and Women's Hospital opened a $73 million wing in 2013, almost doubling the hospital's size.

Technology

As the local economy continues to diversify, high-tech companies continue to grow in the region from software development to security systems. Several successful technology firms have chosen Mobile as their home.

The healthcare information technology sector is particularly well represented in Mobile, with firms such as TeleVox Software, The SSI Group and CPSI, all of which develop software to improve processes at doctors' offices, clinics and hospitals. The above-mentioned companies accounted for almost a third of the 5,850 technology jobs in the Mobile area in 2013. Healthcare Informatics, the premier publication for healthcare IT, consistently ranks all three companies among the Top 100 healthcare product and service providers in the nation.

USA Coastal Innovation Hub USA Technology and Research Park

At the end of 2013, the University of South Alabama (USA) opened its Coastal Innovation Hub as a launchpad for high-technology startups. Similar to other successful incubator programs across the country, the 10,000-square-foot facility offers entrepreneurs affordable office space, laboratories, conference rooms, professional services and the resources and expertise of a research university committed to economic development. The hub is a joint project of USA's Office of Research and Economic Development and its Melton Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation.

The 35-acre USA Technology and Research Park serves larger startups. The park links university resources with the business community in a single location, and enhances partnerships between USA and high-tech companies. The park continues to create, attract and retain high-quality and high-paying jobs.

Maritime

Offshore natural gas, shipbuilding and ship repair are among Mobile's expanding maritime businesses creating a synergy for growth. As offshore drilling increases, Mobile shipbuilders are building offshore supply and rig-tending vessels and repairing rigs and ships at their facilities on the Mobile River.

Virtually every conceivable service for the maritime industry can be found in this 310-plus-year-old port city. Sources of these services include barge fleetings, container repair and leasing, dunnage, freight forwarding, guard and ship watching, heavy lift and salvage, industrial diving, line handling, marine fumigation, maritime waste disposal, ship chandlers, stevedoring, towing and many more. There are 17 foreign freight forwarders and nine of them are custom house brokers. There are also 13 barge lines/towing companies. The largest operations are Crescent Towing Co., Seabulk Towing and Waterways Towing & Offshore Services Inc.

There are five different shipbuilding and/or repair facilities along Mobile's waterfront, including BAE Systems Southeast, Austal USA, C&G Boatworks, Horizon Shipbuilding and Signal Ship Repair, with many smaller companies located throughout the Mobile Bay region.

Austal USA, Mobile's largest manufacturing employer, is the fastest growing business along the Mobile River. A recent $200 million-plus expansion added 1,000 jobs, and the company now has more than 4,000 employees working on military contracts of up to $5.1 billion. Austal will build up to 12 Littoral Combat Ships and 10 Joint High Speed Vessels for the U.S. Navy. The latest expansion includes a new office complex, phase two of the Module Manufacturing Facility and Assembly Bay 6.

The Theodore Ship Channel is host to several other service facilities as well as small workboat yards for ship repair and construction. It is also particularly well suited to the oil and gas industry, as the channel, capable of a 40-foot draft, is the closest deep water location to the open Gulf of Mexico, and is home to Aker Solutions and Technip.

Aker Solutions, a manufacturer of subsea umbilicals for the offshore oil and gas industry, recently invested $6 million in improvements and added 25 jobs. This is the fifth expansion since the company opened in Mobile in 2003.

Other Services

Aside from numerous technology companies and healthcare institutions, other firms providing a wide variety of services have chosen the Mobile Bay region for their headquarters. These companies include Ball Healthcare Services Inc., with nursing homes and assisted living facilities in 10 Alabama communities; International Shipholding Co., which relocated its headquarters in 2007; Shoe Station Inc.; Hargrove Engineers + Constructors; and Volkert Inc. Collectively, Mobile-headquartered firms have more than 3,000 workers regionally.

Manufacturing and Distribution

Manufacturing

Mobile's aviation/aerospace industry forms the center of a Gulf Coast regional aerospace industry hub. Construction is underway on a $600 million aircraft final assembly line for Airbus at Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley. The development is expected to bring 1,000-plus jobs. Aircraft assembly will begin in 2015, and the first deliveries from Mobile are expected in 2016. Airbus is expected to attract other related companies and suppliers to the area. To date, related announcements include the location of Labinal, an aerospace engineering firm bringing 30 to 50 jobs. Airbus Americas Engineering opened at Mobile Aeroplex in 2008 and employs more than 250 engineers.

Also at the Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley, ST Aerospace Mobile Inc., an aviation repair and maintenance company, is one of the largest Mobile Bay region employers with around 1,350 workers. Continental Motors continues to have a solid presence in Mobile with 430 employees.

Business

Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley is a 1,700-acre industrial area with two runways – one of which is 9,600 feet long and capable of landing any aircraft – has deepwater port access and connects with two interstates – I-65 and I-10. The former U.S. Air Force base is an extremely desirable location for the aerospace industry.

Steel manufacturing is also a major player in Mobile's economy. The $5.2 billion Thyssen-Krupp complex in north Mobile County, one of the largest private investments in U.S. history, sold and now operates as two companies. In 2014 ThyssenKrupp Steel USA was purchased by a joint venture between ArcelorMittal and Nippon Steel and Sumitomo Metal and is now named AM/NS Calvert. The stainless division was purchased by Outokumpu Stainless USA in 2012. The development has spurred more than 300 local supplier jobs by companies doing business with the two steel manufacturers. SSAB Americas recently completed a $220 million heat-treating facility to harden steel, a niche market for SSAB, adding 137 jobs.

The Port of Mobile has invested more than $700 million to improve its facilities and is currently serving Post-Panamax ships, the massive container vessels that will soon be navigating the widened Panama Ship Canal. The most significant investment is APM Terminals (Mobile Container Terminal LLC), a $300 million intermodal facility that brings together ship, rail, truck and air transportation modes into one contiguous site. The terminal is operated as a joint venture between APM Terminals North America and Terminal Link, a division of CMA CGM.

The chemical industry is one of the region's largest industry sectors with more than 3,300 employees. Evonik Industries, with a history of more than 30 years in Mobile, is the largest chemical company, followed by BASF Corp., UOP, Olin, DuPont Crop Protection, Arkema Inc. and Huntsman Americas LLC.

Recent developments in Mobile's chemical industry include a $40 million expansion at Huntsman Americas, adding 35 jobs; a $30 million expansion at Lenzing Fibers, adding 63 jobs; and a $11.4 million expansion at Amvac Chemical, adding 21 jobs. Tate & Lyle recently invested $20 million and added 100 jobs to reopen its production facility for Sucralose, the key sweetening ingredient in Splenda.

Distribution

Mobile's Gulf Coast location and unique infrastructure of two major interstates, five Class I railroads, two airports, a deepwater port and container terminal is unmatched in the world. Several national distribution centers exist in support of the manufacturing and chemical industry, such as BASF Corp., DuPont Crop Protection and UOP. There are also numerous regional supply and service distribution companies like ACE Hardware, O'Reilly Auto Parts, Blue Bell Creameries, Sherwin Williams and Cintas. Mobile was named in Logistics Today's best places for businesses that rely on logistics.

Workforce Training

Alabama has the best manufacturing workforce training program in the U.S., according to a recent edition of Expansion Management magazine. Almost all major Mobile manufacturers have taken advantage of services offered by AIDT, the state workforce training program and its proven method of recruiting, screening and training for company startups and expanding workforces.

This program is available to qualifying Alabama companies with significant hiring needs. The custom-tailored program based on an individual company's needs is offered at no charge. To train potential Airbus employees, AIDT is building a 35,000-square-foot, multi-story training center at Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley. The $6 million facility will house state-of-the-art labs and classrooms. Two other recent examples are an AIDT training facility in Calvert to support the steel industry and the Maritime Training Center, located near the Mobile River, to support the shipbuilding industry.

Bringing workforce training to area high schools, the Mobile County Public School System has opened four signature academies: the Health Career Access Program at Blount High School; the Manufacturing, Industry and Technology Academy at Citronelle High School; the Academy of Teaching and Learning at Mary G. Montgomery High School; and the Aviation and Aerospace Academy at B.C. Rain High School.

Developed to address industry needs, these academies give students hands-on learning experiences in career paths readily available in the Mobile Bay area. Many local businesses have partnered with schools to offer internships, job-shadow days and job-site tours. The academies are expected to improve graduation rates by helping students focus on high school as a practical way of achieving employment.

International Trade

International trade provides extensive benefits to the state of Alabama. Export sales reached $19.5 billion in 2012, a 10 percent increase over 2011 and a 59 percent increase over 2009.

The state's largest merchandise export category is transportation equipment, which accounted for $7.7 billion of Alabama's total merchandise exports in 2012. Other top merchandise exports are chemicals ($2.6 billion), minerals and ores ($1.8 billion), primary metals ($1.4 billion), and machinery ($1 billion). Canada was Alabama's leading trading partner in 2012, with exports totaling $3.9 billion. Germany was second with exports totaling $2.5 billion. China ($2.4 billion), Mexico ($2 billion) and Japan ($795 million) rounded out the top five foreign destinations for 2012.

Mobile's port ranks 12th in the nation in overall waterborne foreign trade by cargo volume and handles more than 25 million tons of cargo annually. In 2012, the Port Authority's containerized, steel and export coal volumes all posted significant growth. Containerized freight held the largest gain with 22 percent increase over 2011, while steel volumes gained eight percent and export coal grew by five percent.

Mobile's Foreign-Trade Zone (FTZ) project enhances the competitiveness of companies engaged in international trade. A number of firms currently use FTZ procedures to significantly reduce costs associated with customs duties and tariffs, and to streamline inbound supply chains.

Transportation

When it comes to infrastructure and extensive transportation options, Mobile leads the way. The city's strategic location on the central Gulf Coast and abundant transportation options keep business moving and growing. Major rail, ship and highway transportation systems converge along the Mobile River at the Port of Mobile to link Mobile businesses with the nation and the world. In addition to a deepwater port, Mobile has two major interstate connectors, five Class I railroad service providers and two airports. Comparing Mobile to 330 other MSAs identified by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget, Logistics Today listed Mobile as the nation's 28th most logistics-friendly city and 11th in the Southeast.

Port of Mobile

Over the past decade, the Alabama State Port Authority has invested more than $700 million toward establishing new facilities at the Port of Mobile, including a new container terminal, a new steel terminal, expansion at McDuffie Coal Terminal, a new rail ferry terminal, new warehouses and a new turning basin. The 45-foot ship channel with its 1,000-foot turning basin is only four hours from or to deepwater ocean. Mobile Container Terminal, a newly built state-of-the-art marine terminal is Post-Panamax capable and offers global access to shippers. A new Intermodal Container Transfer Facility will provide an intermodal rail option to shippers in North Alabama, Tennessee and surrounding states and should open by 2015. McDuffie Coal Terminal is the largest import coal terminal in the nation.

Railroads

Mobile is served by five national Class I railroads: CSX Transportation, Burlington Northern/Santa Fe, Norfolk-Southern, Canadian National, and Kansas City Southern with piggyback and containerized freight service. An average 2,500 rail cars pass through Mobile daily.

Highway System

Mobile's highway system includes two major interstates and five federal highways. Interstate 10, the southern-most coast-to-coast interstate highway in the U.S. connects Jacksonville to Los Angeles. Interstate 65, a major north-south route, links the Great Lakes to the Gulf Coast. The area's federal highways are U.S. 31, 43, 45, 90 and 98.

As a major manufacturing center and port city, Mobile offers competitive trucking for shippers. Most major regional and national trucking lines serve Mobile and operate terminals in the area.

Airlines

The Mobile Airport Authority owns and operates Mobile's two airports, Mobile Regional Airport (MOB) and the Mobile Downtown Airport (BFM) at Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley. Mobile Regional Airport is served by Delta Air Lines, US Airways, United and American Airlines. More than 600,000 passengers fly through Mobile Regional Airport every year. Daily flights go to five of the nation's largest hubs: Atlanta, Charlotte, Chicago, Dallas/Fort Worth and Houston.

Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley

A former U.S. Air Force base located on Mobile Bay near downtown Mobile, Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley has been transformed into a leading 1,700-acre industrial and trade complex. Built around a fully operational airfield with a 9,600-foot runway, the complex offers transportation infrastructure second to none. Along with a fully-operational airport able to accommodate the largest aircraft, Brookley provides superb road and rail access.

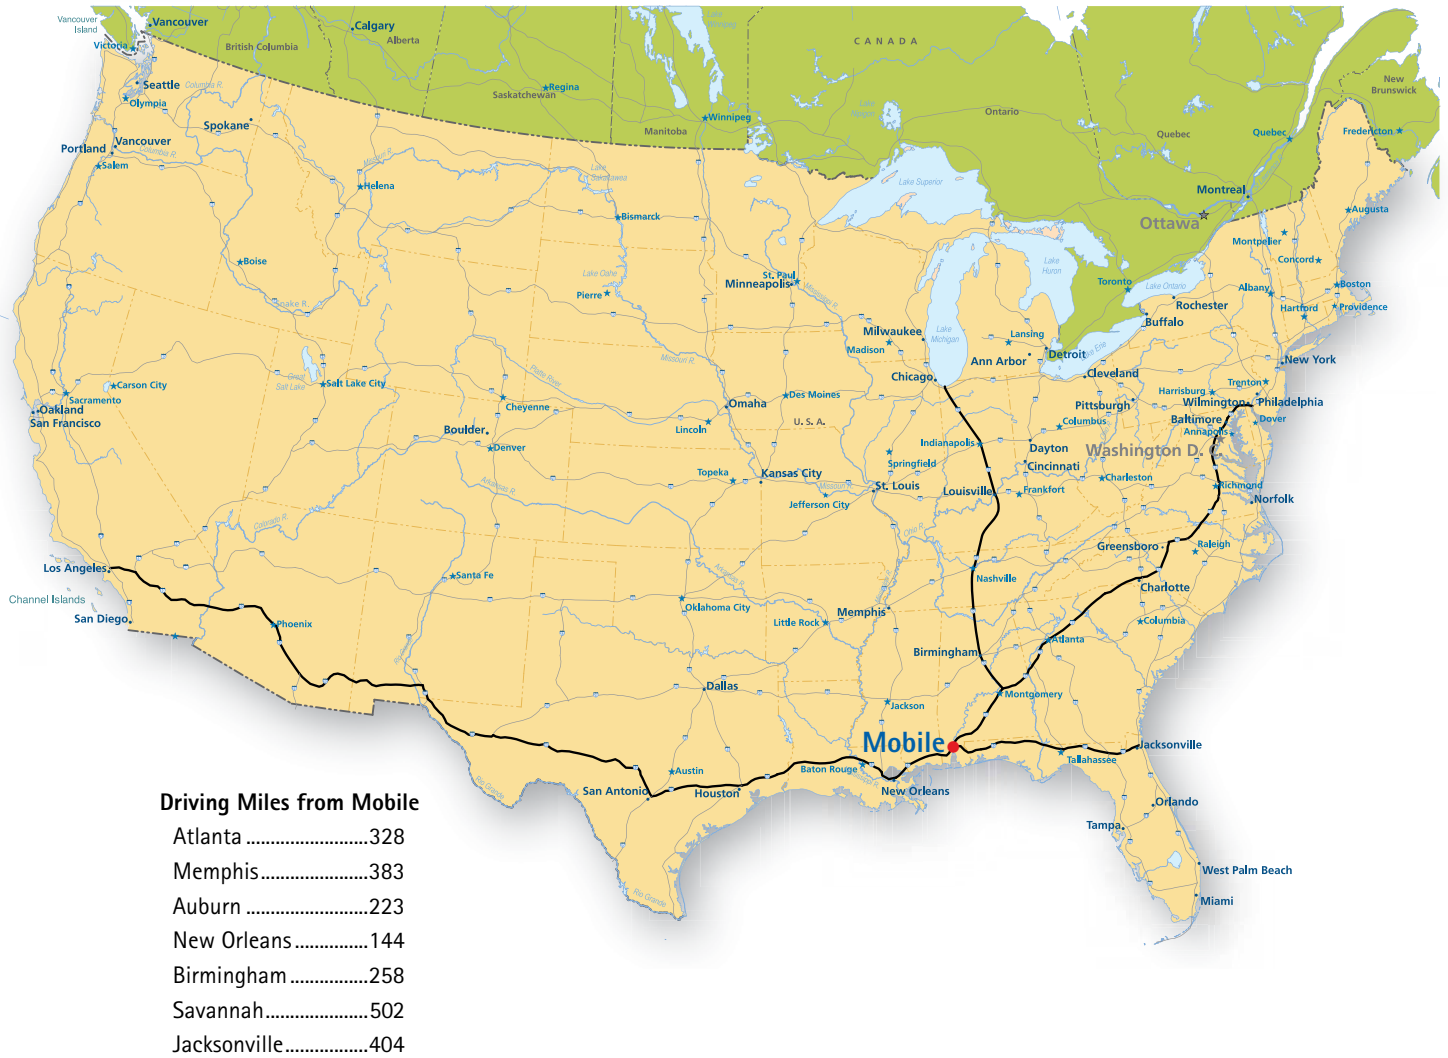

Air Cargo

From the Mobile Downtown Airport, near the port and downtown, Mobile has FedEx air cargo service.

Public Transportation

Mobile is served by The Wave Transit System, offering bus service throughout the city. The Wave also operates Moda!, a free bus route in downtown Mobile. Baldwin Rural Area Transportation System (BRATS) operates BayLinc, a daily commuter bus connecting Baldwin and Mobile counties.

Transportation

Mobile's extensive transportation infrastructure keeps business on the move. Major rail, ship and highway transportation systems converge along the Mobile River at the Port of Mobile to link Mobile businesses with the nation and the world. In addition to a deepwater port, Mobile has two major interstate connectors, five railroad service providers and two airports.

Mobile is a great place to live, and it's also a great place to buy a house.

In 2013, the median cost of a home purchased in Mobile County was $114,800, well below the national average of $207,300.

Overall, Mobile also has a much lower cost of living than most cities its size, and is among the 15 lowest out of the 80 mid-size U.S. metropolitan areas according to the American Chamber of Commerce Researchers Association (ACCRA) survey. ACCRA produces a quarterly cost-of-living index for more than 300 cities throughout the country using the national average base of 100, and ranks the cities accordingly. For the third quarter of 2013, Mobile ranked 91.8 – compared to Atlanta, which ranked 93.5.

When it comes to housing options, Mobile has it all in a range of affordable prices – downtown living, rural solitude, historic neighborhoods, modern subdivisions, waterfront homes and suburban apartment complexes.

There is a selection of existing houses in Mobile's downtown and midtown neighborhoods, in seven historic residential districts, ranging from mansions to Victorian cottages. Farther away from the central business district, suburban neighborhoods offer the options of rolling hills or quiet cul de sacs.

New houses also are available both in town and in the suburbs. New subdivisions, with a variety of house plans, are under development throughout the area, and new housing options downtown can put you a short walk from the central business district.

Performing Arts

Joe Jefferson Players

Joe Jefferson Players, Alabama's oldest dramatic company, offers of full season of theater. Above, a recent production of Noises Off.

Mobile has one of the Gulf Coast's liveliest performing arts scenes. Locally-produced opera, symphony, dance and theater, along with traveling shows, give Mobilians a wide variety of performance options nearly any week of the year.

Performing arts groups

Mobile Opera presents two major opera productions each year, along with a variety of educational programs.

Mobile Symphony offers a full season of classical and pops concerts at the Saenger Theatre, student concerts and in-school programs. The symphony has become known as one of the nation's best orchestras.

Mobile Ballet presents three major productions each year, featuring its own company and soloists from some of the world's best dance companies. It also operates a dance academy.

Several local theater groups are active in the community, many with their own theater homes. The Mobile Theatre Guild has won acclaim at several international competitions. The Joe Jefferson Players is Alabama's oldest dramatic company.

The Playhouse in the Park trains Mobile's next theater generation at its theater in Langan Park. Another organization offering opportunities for young performers is Drama Camp Productions at Sunny Side Theater.

The Mobile Pops and other music groups, including Mobile Piano Ensemble, present concerts at various locations throughout the year.

Mobile's Singing Children have performed throughout the nation and is a popular outlet for talented youth.

Theaters and Art Centers

The historic Saenger Theatre is under new management and is attracting a number of the nation's top touring acts. The ornate 1,800-seat theater is home to the Mobile Symphony.

Mobile Civic Center is a multi-purpose complex including an arena, theater and exhibit hall. The theater is home to Mobile Opera, Mobile Ballet and traveling productions.

Bernheim Hall, renovated as part of the expansion of the Ben May Main Library of the Mobile Public Library, offers a more intimate setting for performances, lectures and film.

University of South Alabama Laidlaw Performing Arts Center offers music, theater and dance performances by student, faculty and community groups and is home to Mobile Chamber Music.

The Mobile Arts Council is a nonprofit organization promoting the development of quality arts programs and cultural growth.

Parks & Outdoors

Thigpen Photography

Langan Park, in west Mobile, is Mobile's largest municipal park and the site of the Mobile Museum of Art. The park offers miles of trails around a central lake and is popular with walkers and joggers of all ages.

The Mobile area's incredible climate supports year-round outdoor adventures. There are more than 70 parks and playgrounds in the Mobile area offering facilities for picnicking, canoeing, biking, hiking, camping and other leisure activities.

Here are just a few of the options: Bienville Square and Cathedral Square are popular downtown spaces, while the 720-acre Langan Park to the west offers golf, tennis, outdoor concerts, a children's playground and picnic areas. Arlington Park, on Mobile Bay near Mobile Aeroplex at Brookley, includes a pier, a kayak launch point and picnic gazebos. Medal of Honor Park in west Mobile features a dog park and a pavilion for outdoor concerts. Chickasabogue Park, a county park, has bike and foot trails, fishing, camping, canoeing and swimming.

Just minutes from downtown, the state's 83-acre waterfront complex, 5 Rivers – Alabama's Delta Resource Center provides public access to the wonders of the Mobile-Tensaw Delta with hundreds of miles of rivers and wetlands. Across the U.S. 90 Causeway, Meaher State Park also serves as a gateway to the delta. Swamp tours are the easiest way to view this unique natural resource, where visitors can learn about birds, fish, alligators, bald eagles, black bears and other wildlife in the area.

The white sands of the Gulf of Mexico are a short drive away to Dauphin Island in Mobile County or to the shoreline of Baldwin County.

The Alabama Coastal Birding Trail is a birdwatcher's paradise. The trail spans two counties and is enhanced by directional and interpretive signage.

Mobile's warm climate and an abundance of sunny days keep citizens of all ages active and engaged in sports.

Thanks to an abundance of warm, sunny days, golfing, sailing, boating, fishing or just relaxing by the water are options 12 months of the year.

Mobile has more than 25 golf courses in the metropolitan area, ranging from traditional Scottish links to rolling hills with tight fairways. Alabama's Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail has two courses in the Mobile area, Magnolia Grove and Lakewood Golf Club in Point Clear. The Wall Street Journal said the Trail "may be the biggest bargain in the country" and the New York Times called the Trail "some of the best public golf on Earth."

Ladd-Peebles Memorial Stadium is home to the Reese's Senior Bowl, pitting squads of college all-stars against one another, and attracting so many scouts it is sometimes called a mini-convention of NFL coaches. Ladd-Peebles is also home to the University of South Alabama Jaguars and regular season high school contests.

The annual GoDaddy Bowl brings more than 40,000 people to the Port City in January.

The Copeland-Cox Mobile Tennis

Center, near Langan Park, is the nation's largest public facility, with 50 hard courts.

The Mobile BayBears, the Double-A affiliate of the Arizona Diamondbacks, play approximately 70 home games at Hank Aaron Stadium each year.

The University of South Alabama, Spring Hill College, the University of Mobile, Bishop State Community College and Faulkner State Community College field teams in basketball, baseball, soccer and other team and individual sports for both men and women.

Mobile offers both deep sea fishing in the Gulf of Mexico and some of the South's best freshwater fishing in the Mobile-Tensaw Delta. The Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo is one of the largest of its kind in the world.

Thousands of runners from around the globe come to Mobile for the Azalea Trail Run, one of the fastest official 10K races in the country. The Port City Pacers are responsible for an almost non-stop string of races throughout the year. The annual First Light Marathon winds through Mobile's historic neighborhoods.

Entertainment

Mobile's music scene ranges from local bands in intimate venues to national acts at BayFest drawing crowds of more than 200,000.

It stands to reason that the city known for bringing Mardi Gras to America would know a thing or two about having a good time. And Mobile certainly does. Entertainment is abundant and easy to find.

The list of live music venues is growing throughout the Mobile area, but downtown Mobile serves as the city's entertainment center – with a lively mix of restaurants, nightclubs, bars, galleries and theaters.

Dauphin Street and the historic Saenger Theatre anchor the district known as LoDa, for Lower Dauphin Street. The renovated Saenger attracts major national touring acts, including Wynton Marsalis, Lyle Lovett, Alabama Shakes, Buddy Guy and Norah Jones, and is home to the Mobile Symphony. Local clubs feature live music daily.

A wide variety of restaurants – from elegant to casual – are popular meeting places for dinner before heading off for an evening of entertainment, music and fun.

Mobile recently joined many other cities with lively downtown entertainment scenes in creating designated entertainment districts allowing people to mingle freely and carry beverages between establishments.

BayFest is one of the largest musical festivals on the Gulf Coast, attracting more than 200,000 music lovers to hear some of the nation's top performers in every genre, including country, classic rock, alternative, pop, jazz, R&B, rap, gospel, modern rock and more.

Other festivals such as ArtsAlive and LoDa ArtWalk bring crowds of people to downtown streets to sample what the city has to offer.

But nothing tops the excitement of Mardi Gras season when crowds fill downtown for three weeks of parades.

Food

Follow the Oyster Trail

Oysters are an iconic Mobile food. The city's oldest restaurant famously offers them "fried, stewed or nude," and locals consume them in everything from a simple po-boy to the elegantly embellished Oysters Bienville. Raw oysters on the half shell remain the standard and were a popular delicacy along the Gulf Coast centuries before European explorers arrived. While the Mobile Bay region still processes and distributes large quantities of oysters from nearby states, the bay's own oyster population has declined for decades.

Recently the Mobile Bay Oyster Gardening Program set out to restore the bay's oyster reefs and improve the bay's ecological health in the process. To raise awareness for its cause, the group created the Oyster Trail, a collection of 12 giant, brightly-painted, four-foot-tall fiberglass oysters scattered throughout downtown Mobile. Each oyster is painted by a local artist and includes a fact plaque about the importance of oysters to Mobile Bay and a QR code linked to the organization's website. The colorful trail is a fun way to teach locals and visitors about the role oysters play in restoring Mobile Bay's ecosystem, as well as boosting the economy.

The Oyster Trail is a partnership with Alabama Cooperative Extension System, Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium's Mobile Bay Oyster Gardening Program, Downtown Mobile Alliance, Mobile Arts Council and the Mobile Bay Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Find out more at the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium website: www.masgc.org.

Food

Food is what brings Mobile's diverse culture together. A strong sense of community is built by bringing folks together for a good time over exceptional food and drinks. There's always a pot of gumbo simmering on a stove somewhere, and a great meal is easy to find.

When visitors to Mobile think of local food, they automatically think of seafood. But locals know our tables are famous for a lot more than some of the world's best shrimp and oysters. Mobile also takes great pride in a rich variety of Southern produce grown by local farmers. Farmer's markets, vegetable and fruit stands and curb markets make it easy and affordable to enjoy local produce.

Surrounded by fertile farmland in both Mobile and Baldwin counties and blessed with a long growing season, Mobile enjoys a long list of homegrown treats. Summers are filled with vine-ripe tomatoes, strawberries, watermelons, field peas, cantaloupes, okra, butter beans, peaches, squash and the royalty of local produce – Silver Queen corn. Cooler weather brings turnips, collards, persimmons and citrus crops, such as satsumas and lemons.

Along the Oyster Trail

Mobile's Oyster Trail is an educational adventure through downtown Mobile. Each oyster provides an interesting fact about oysters and their role in keeping Mobile Bay healthy and productive. For example, did you know it takes one to three years for an oyster in Mobile Bay to grow to a harvestable size of three inches? Opposite page, "Restoration Works" by artist Melissa K. Shaver. Right, "Wintzell" by Devlin Wilson celebrates Willie Brown, a legendary Mobile oyster shucker with more 43 years of experience as an ambassador for oyster consumption. Left, "Mobile on the Half Shell" by Lucy Gafford.

Tags are acquired from the Mobile County License Commission. A new Alabama resident is required to title and register his or her vehicle within 30 days of moving into the state with a valid out-of-state registration. There is a fee plus taxes for all passenger cars. All vehicles (built in 1975 and newer) must have titles. Registration for an out-of-state vehicle must be presented when applying for an Alabama tag. Alabama has a staggered renewal system, and the tag expiration date is according to the first letter of the last name.

The Mobile County License Commission has five convenient locations where you can register a new vehicle, renew your car tag or driver's license, obtain a hunting or fishing license or other license transactions. Tags also can be renewed online, by phone or by mail.

believe in mobile belong to the chamber

we're good for business ... your business

It's tough running a business, but it's easier when the Mobile Area Chamber of Commerce has your back. Most of our more than 2,200 members are small businesses working to make a living and make a difference. The Chamber does more than build a strong economy – we offer prime networking venues to develop new contacts and solid resources to help you start, manage and grow your company. Believe in a strong future for Mobile. Belong to the Chamber – because it's good for business and good for Mobile.

UNIFIED COMMUNICATIONS FOR YOUR BUSINESS

TAKE YOUR BUSINESS TO THE NEXT LEVEL

LET CALLIS TRANSFORM THE WAY YOU COMMUNICATE

| HOSTED PBX | EMAIL | INTERNET | SECURITY | COLLABORATION |

Callis Communications is transforming the way businesses operate. With Callis' unified communications solutions, businesses are fully connected on any device, at any time, anywhere - increasing productivity, efficiency and flexibility as well as engagement and collaboration. Callis allows businesses to focus on their core business - we consolidate end-to-end communication needs, giving them one invoice, one button to press for customer support, and one vendor who is completely accountable, all at no capital expense.

Thanks to our passion for innovation and our proven record delivering a WOW customer experience, Callis has become the authority for cloud-based Unified Communications as a Service (UCaaS) solutions in the Southeast, U.S. We are proud to partner with the Mobile Area Chamber of Commerce and all businesses throughout the region.
